

Greenland Travel

Packing list for summer trips in Greenland

An unforgettable trip and a suitcase packed with the right clothing go together!

What to wear in Greenland in general

Clothing in Greenland is always practical! This applies whether you are standing on deck trying to spot whales or you are at a restaurant. Be prepared for sunny days but also for cold, fresh mornings and evenings.

Be aware of the layer-upon-layer principle. This enables you to make fast and easy adjustments for the temperature so you can make yourself more comfortable. The inner layer keeps the body warm. The outer layer is for protection against rain and wind. For example, a pair of rain-proof outer pants can provide protection against wind.

On sailing trips we recommend that you also bring a warm cap, gloves and a scarf. The water is no more than a few degrees warm and the icebergs also give off a lot of cold when you sail in ice-filled waters. This is not a problem if you are wearing suitable clothing; quite the opposite in fact. The cool, fresh air enhances the experience.

For tours around towns, excursions and on board we recommend shoes with a profiled sole. Bring a pair of indoor shoes as well. The light can be very bright so we recommend sunglasses. A small back-pack is practical for your camera, extra sweaters etc.

Protecting a vulnerable environment

Walking tours in Greenland go through undisturbed and remote landscapes. The water in the streams is drinkable and in many places there is not another human being in sight. We would like it to stay this way. We ask everyone who visits and uses nature in Greenland to take care of the fragile Arctic surroundings.

Packing list

Clothing

Windbreaker/warm wind and waterproof jacket
Sweater (wool or fleece)
Blouse with long sleeves
T-shirts
Pants – for example zip off
Underclothes
Socks
Warm cap
Gloves
Scarf
Rain clothes
Footwear with profiled soles

Footwear with profiled soles
Light footwear/trainers

Back pack for day trips

Toiletries

Soap, (shampoo)
Toothbrush/Toothpaste
Comb/Brush
Sun screen
Lip salve
Personal medication

Miscellaneous

Sunglasses (very important)
Water bottle (thermo)
Travel documents (including insurance)
Photo ID

Optional

Note book and pencil
Camera
Binoculars
Literature

Your luggage allowance is 20 kilos and one piece of hand luggage weighing up to 8 kilos. You can find further information at www.airgreenland.com

Greenland Travel recommends the Icelandic clothes brand 66° NORTH when traveling in the North Atlantic regions.

Greenland Travel

Wilders Plads, P.O.Box 1904, DK-1023 Copenhagen K * Phone +45 3313 1011 * Fax +45 3313 7347
SE #. 76677816 * * Aut. IATA agent * info@grb.dk * www.greenland-travel.com